How to set up multiple journal contents alerts via PubMed

This is the simplest method for setting up multiple alerts, if the journal is covered by PubMed.

Health users may find the following helpful for setting up alerts via PubMed:

<https://mclibrary.duke.edu/sites/mclibrary.duke.edu/files/public/research/tocpubmed.pdf>

or

<https://ncbiinsights.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/2013/11/14/setting-up-automatic-ncbi-searches-and-new-record-alerts/>

or

Video tutorial from the US National Library of Medicine: E-mail Alerts for Articles from Your Favorite Journals, <https://www.nlm.nih.gov/bsd/viewlet/myncbi/jourup/index.html>

The NCBI (National Center for Biotechnology Information) will ask you to register with them. See NCBI web policies and privacy notice at: <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/home/about/policies/>

How to set up journal contents alert emails from individual journals via publisher website

If you search for the title of your preferred journal using Google or another search engine, you should be able to find the name of the publisher on the website. Be careful, as some journals have very similar titles. Most publishers will ask you to register with them. Check on the individual website for their privacy policy.

BMJ - e.g. the BMJ

Search Google or another search engine for the journal title, then scroll down to the bottom to My Account Email Alerts.

The screenshot shows the BMJ website interface. At the top, there is a banner for 'oncotypeDX Breast Recurrence Score' and a 'Recommended by NICE Quality Standard [QS12]' badge. Below the banner is a navigation bar with 'thebmj' logo and menu items: Research, Education, News & Views, Campaigns, Archive, For authors, Jobs, Hosted, and a search icon. A secondary navigation bar includes 'Our company', 'Edition: UK', 'Subscribe', 'My Account', 'BMA member login', and 'Login'. The main content area is divided into 'Articles archive' and 'Specialties'. The 'Articles archive' section includes links for 'Browse all articles from last 7 days', 'Full online archive', 'Print archive: Jan 1994 - current', 'Print archive: Oct 1840 - Dec 1993', and 'Print cover archive'. The 'Specialties' section includes 'Browse specialties from across BMJ', 'Browse clinical topics from The BMJ', 'Browse non-clinical topics from The BMJ', 'Browse article series from The BMJ', 'See previous polls', 'Podcast archive', 'Video archive', and 'Infographics'. At the bottom, there is a footer with four columns: 'Follow us on' (Twitter, Facebook, YouTube, Pinterest, RSS), 'Content links' (Collections, Health in South Asia, Women's, children's & adolescents' health, Zika virus, Research, Education, News and views, BMJ Opinion, Rapid responses, Archive), 'About us' (About us, Editorial staff, BMJ in the USA, BMJ in South Asia, Advisers, Policies, Submit your paper), and 'Resources' (Authors, Reviewers, BMA members, Readers, Subscribers, Advertisers and sponsors, Media, Patient partnership, Recruiters). A 'My account' section is circled in red, containing 'Email alerts' and 'Activate subscription'. An 'Information' section includes 'Contact us', 'Feedback', and 'Complaints'. There is also an 'Explore BMJ' section with links like 'Our company', 'BMJ Careers', 'BMJ Learning', 'BMJ Masterclasses', 'BMJ Journals', 'Student BMJ', 'Academic edition of The BMJ', 'BMJ Best Practice', and 'The BMJ Awards'.

Oxford Academic Journals - e.g. Age and Ageing

Search Google or another search engine for the journal title, then scroll down near the bottom of the right hand column

The screenshot shows the Oxford Academic website for the journal 'Age and Ageing'. The page features a navigation bar with options like 'Issues', 'More Content', 'Submit', 'Purchase', 'Advertise', and 'About'. A search bar is present with 'All Age and Ageing' selected. The main content area is divided into three columns. The left column contains a sidebar with a list of journal contents including 'Editor's view', 'List of Reviewers', 'Editorials', 'Commentaries', 'Systematic Reviews', 'Review', 'Review of Research Methods', 'Research Papers', 'Qualitative Papers', 'Errata', and 'Corrigenda'. The middle column displays the 'EDITOR'S VIEW' section by David J Stott, followed by the 'LIST OF REVIEWERS' section and 'EDITORIALS' section, which includes the article 'Temporal changes in medication use and disease management in old age: where does it all end?' by Arduino A Mangoni. The right column contains a vertical advertisement for 'ONCE-DAILY LIXIANA' by Daiichi-Sankyo, featuring a photo of an elderly woman and a 'CLICK TO READ MORE' button. Below the advertisement is a red-bordered box for 'Email alerts' with options for 'New issue alert' and 'Advance article alerts', and a note to 'Receive exclusive offers and updates'.

Royal College of General Practitioners - e.g British Journal of General Practice

Search Google or another search engine for the journal title, then look for Table of Contents Alerts in the right hand column.

The screenshot shows the website for the British Journal of General Practice (BJGP). At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Subscriptions, Alerts, and Log in. The main header includes the BJGP logo and the text "British Journal of General Practice bringing research to clinical practice". A search bar is located on the right side of the header. Below the header, there is a menu with options: HOME, ONLINE FIRST, CURRENT ISSUE, ALL ISSUES (which is highlighted), AUTHORS & REVIEWERS, SUBSCRIBE, and RESOURCES. The "All Issues" section is active, showing a timeline from September 1953 to March 2018. A "Browse by Volumes" section allows users to navigate through decades (1950s to 2010s) and years (2010 to 2018). The "2018" section is expanded to show "MARCH". On the right side, there is a "CURRENT ISSUE" section for "March 2018" (Vol. 68 Issue 666). This section contains links for "Table of Contents", "Alerts", "RSS", and "All Issues". The "Table of Contents" link is circled in red. At the bottom right of the "CURRENT ISSUE" section, there is a "NAVIGATE TO" link.
